Name Muzeum w Lęborku/ Museum of Leborg

Situated in the town centre, the Museum in Leborg houses a wide range of historical and ethnographic artefacts and art work including contemporary pieces. The Museum also holds one of the most important archaeological collections in Central Europe. Due to its proximity to Leba, a top tourist destination on the Polish coast, the Museum reaches a wide audience through its promotional work e.g., at the Slowinski National Park famous for its shifting sand dunes, the 120-berth marina, as well as the hugely popular Stilo light-house.

The Museum welcomes volunteers from all over Europe (Spain, Portugal, France, and Georgia so far) through the European Voluntary Service (EVS - European Voluntary Service) the 2 Youth in Action Programme, created and funded by the European Commission. Together with Association EduQ, the Museum is pleased to play a role in the development of these young people, to help them acquire new skills and overcome barriers, prejudices and stereotypes.

Short description

Leborg Museum also runs an extremely popular workshop series focused on disappearing ancient and medieval crafts covering techniques such as weaving, handmade paper, stained glass, pottery, etc.

As part of the Culture Programme project "Childhood. Remains and Heritage", the Museum in Leborg prepared a puppet show "Little Red Riding Hood" in two languages, held workshops to create the puppets and scenery for this theatre using handmade paper, sewing, felting and linocut techniques and organised a group bicycle ride "down memory lane".

Leborg Museum works hard to involve the public of all ages in its activities run throughout the year and encourages active participation – whether through workshops, treasure hunts, annual themed costumed events or temporary exhibitions
